The most prestigious private debt event in Europe returns in its 5th year, continuing to deliver unparalleled analysis, proprietary and exclusive data and research, and the highest-quality line-up of attendees once again.

Backed by the market-leading editorial and research teams from Private Debt Investor, the Capital Structure Forum strives to move and adapt with the market, offering a holistic, data-driven, and truly global perspective of today's private debt market in Europe and beyond.

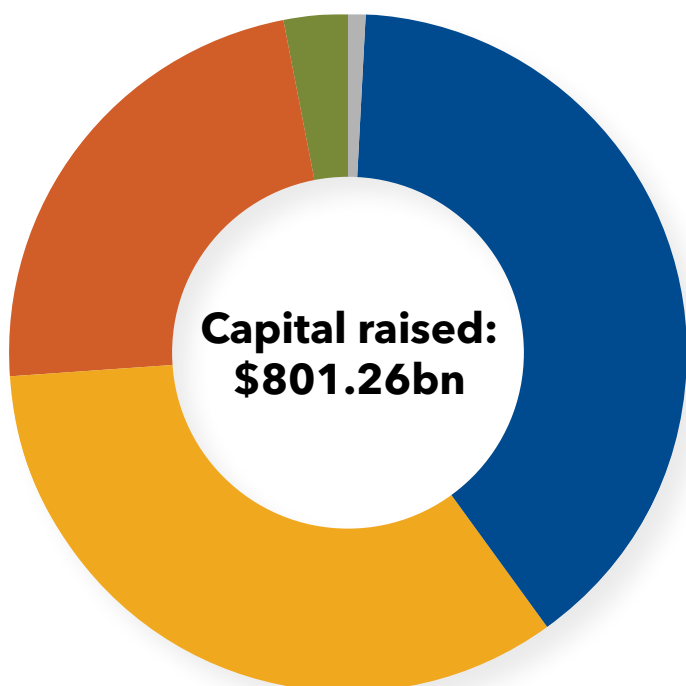

A data snap shot of what will be covered at the event below:

Ten largest private debt funds, closed 1 Jan 2013 - 30 Jun 2018

The largest private debt fund closed between 1 January 2013 and 30 June 2018 was Apollo Investment Fund IX, with the caveat that only a portion of the total raise is dedicated to debt investments. The firm's largest-ever fund, which closed at $24.7 billion in June 2017, focused on three strategies: distressed debt, corporate carveouts and opportunistic buyouts. It was backed by 573 investors including the Florida State Board of Administration, the New York State Common Retirement Fund, the California Public Employees' Retirement System and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Board.

Private debt fundraising by geographical focus, 1 Jan 2013 - 30 Jun 2018

Between 1 January 2013 and 30 June 2018, $801.3 billion was raised from the final close of 1,131 funds. Of the total capital raised, almost 40 percent came from funds focused on multiple regions and around a third was raised by North America-focused funds. Just 1 percent was raised by funds focused on Latin America, the Middle East or Africa, highlighting the lacklustre investor interest for emerging markets in the private debt space.

Private debt fundraising globally

Following on from a bumper fundraising year in 2017, private debt fundraising has fallen back in H1 2018. In the first half of the year, $61.6 billion was raised from the close of 69 private debt funds - just 30 percent of total capital raised in 2017.
