

The background of the entire banner is a close-up, low-angle shot of a modern building's facade. The facade is composed of a grid of dark, rectangular panels, each with a small, light-colored circular detail in the center. The panels are arranged in a way that creates a strong sense of depth and perspective, receding towards the top right corner. The lighting is dramatic, with the panels catching the light and creating a play of shadows. The overall color palette is dark and monochromatic, with shades of grey, black, and a hint of teal at the top right.

The real estate investor crystal ball - What's in store for the 2020s?

The region's leaders will discuss upcoming trends, capital flows, private real estate after covid-19, and their predictions on what GPs will have to do to survive - or thrive - during the next decade.

PERE trends and alternatives

From hospitality to data centres, co-living to carpark, this panel will explore the best strategies, demographics and yields. How are the mid and long-term effects from covid-19 shaping those investments?

Asian markets and the realities on the ground

From logistics in SEA to hospitality in Japan, this panel will discover the latest growth strategies and identify the right mix in terms of demographics and yields for mature markets in the region. What emerging markets do the panellists recommend to invest in and to avoid?

Step ahead of your competition by joining PERE Asia Week for exclusive insights and investment opportunities.
