Record-breaking start brings a silver lining in the new era

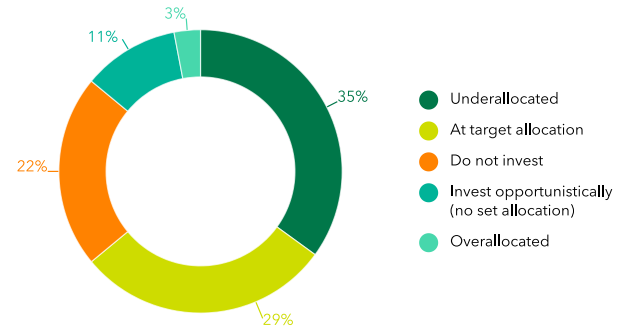

The strong start to the year creates optimism that fundraising for 2020 could be on a par with the previous two years, despite the obvious challenges. With more than a third of LPs say they are under-allocated to infrastructure, this is the best time to connect with Japanese and Korean LPs searching for global investment opportunities.

Japanese and Korean LPs are ready for the new era of infrastructure

Join leading Japanese and Korean LPs who are staying at the forefront of global infrastructure allocations and shaping the new infrastructure landscape at Infrastructure Investor Japan Korea Week on 7-11 September.

"If we don't allocate now, this can hurt the future performance of investment portfolio."

Dong-hun Jang
Chief Investment Officer
Public Officials Benefit Association (POBA)

"Korean LPs expect private capital to keep flowing from Korea into global infrastructure assets after the second quarter and will increase in the long term."
