LaRue McIntyre

Chief Compliance Officer, TrustCore Financial Services, LLC & Co-Chair Nashville NSCP Compliance Roundtable

If you ask the advisors at TrustCore if they are excited about an upcoming annual compliance meeting, you will get a surprising “yes.” This is because, like many, LaRue McIntyre stumbled into the compliance role; but for her, it has become a passion. This industry veteran of nearly 40 years believes compliance must be relevant and not an afterthought for any firm. “My responsibility is to start with the broad concept and break it down into teachable meaningful statements and share them in such a way they are memorable. ”

LaRue is a native of South Carolina and a graduate of Agnes Scott College, just outside of Atlanta, GA. She is an avid painter and uses this creative outlet to balance her “in the box” career. She and her husband have been in the Nashville, TN area for more than 20 years and have 2 children and 5 grandchildren.
