Real estate industry joins the SPAC craze

17 June Hong Kong 9:00am | Sydney 11:00am | New York 9:00pm

Special purpose acquisition companies, or SPACs, have been a force to be reckoned with in the capital markets world, accounting for a record $83 billion of fundraising activity last year and more than $50 billion in less than two months of 2021.

Proptech and real estate finance companies are among the biggest acquisitions by blank-check companies. But as markets stabilize, hard assets could be next.

Join Alta Companies, Baker McKenzie, Gaw Capital, MetaProp, and Monroe Capital for a lively and interactive discussion on the boom of SPACs on 17 June.

Key conversations include:

- » Traditional private equity real estate vs. SPACs: comparing cost, ease, due diligence, execution, and price volatility
- » What do early-stage investors need to do to ensure a successful SPAC exit?
- » Why is the SPAC boom a big real estate trend? Which sectors are ripe for the picking? Are there too many deals out there?
- » Evaluating your SPAC partner vs. a traditional M&A partner
- » How do you distinguish between SPAC sponsors?
- » And much more...
