Agenda highlights for the forum

Making sense of ESG in 2022 and beyond

How investor relations and communications professionals are staying atop of ESG amidst SFDR, increasing investor expectations and other challenges.

The evolution of access to market

Private markets are becoming increasingly democratised, discover how IR teams can keep up with new access routes for their ever-evolving investor base.

The future of the AGM

Post-Covid, how are private funds holding their investor meetings and AGMs? Does face-to-face still reign supreme or is a hybrid approach now essential?

Hear from the LPs

Amidst changing attitudes and increasing sophistication in LPs globally, what do they want to hear from their private fund managers?

Honing your marketing messaging

In an era of countless media platforms and an ever-watchful public eye, staying on top of PR and communications has never been more integral to business success.

Are the private markets merging?

With fund managers increasingly broadening their scope across the different asset classes, a new way of approaching investor relations in private markets is emerging.
