Introduction

The 17th annual PERE Europe Summit featured one of the most senior speaker line-ups in the event's history. Leaders from the likes of Allianz Real Estate, AP2, APG, Bouwinvest, CPP Investments, GIC, and Zurich Insurance shared their views in dynamic and timely debate on the rapidly-changing face of real estate investing in Europe.

Hosting over 400 attendees, some of the highlight themes to emerge over the 3 days of discussion included:

- » How investors are adapting to a new normal of high inflation and interest rates hikes
- » Emerging concerns about construction contractors in the midst of uncertain material costs
- » The urgent need to accelerate decarbonisation of the built environment

The industry is set to enter a period of significant dislocation and realignment, as one speaker said "this is not a land for the inexperienced", so be sure to join the upcoming events in PERE's global calendar to hear from leaders on how to navigate the rough seas of private real estate investment in the years to come.

Next year's PERE Europe Summit  will take place in June 2023 in London - we hope to see you there!

For attendance information at the Europe Summit, or one of our other conferences later this year in Tokyo , Seoul  or New York , please contact peremembership@peimedia.com.

The London PERE conference was well attended and really great to see everyone again in person after months of limited online networking. The panels' content was excellent and the keynote and conference moderation was wonderfully executed.

“It was fantastic to again meet fellow professionals face to face. The PERE Europe Summit set up was, as usual, very professional and it proved a greater opportunity to reconnect with others.
