17.00 Investor Keynote: Long-term investment at GPIF

GPIF is a public pension fund designed to support the future of Japan. Its mission is to contribute to the stability of the national pension scheme, by securing investment returns with minimal risk and a long-term focus. As of September 2024, GPIF's asset size is 258.7 trillion Japanese yen. GPIF employs long-term and diversified investment as its principal investment strategies.

This presentation will provide an overview of the pension system in Japan, GPIF's investment mandate, its perspective as a LP investing in alternative assets, and its aspirations for the future.

It is the speaker's hope that the audience will gain insight into GPIF's goals and priorities.

Speaker: Kiko Emae, Senior Director, Government Pension Investment Fund (GPIF)

17.30 Closing Global Investor Forum Keynote: AI infrastructure in a post-DeepSeek world

- What does the prospect of more efficient AI mean for the trillions in capex projected for the data centre sector?
- Power uncertainty – how much power will AI actually need and will demand climb as much as anticipated?
- Resource consumption – can AI infrastructure command the vast amounts of land, water and other resources it's claiming if it can be done more efficiently?
- Regional differences – how is AI infrastructure development likely to pan out across different parts of the world?
