Agenda highlights

Join keynote presentations, panel discussions, interactive deep-dives, and workshops that promise to spark discussion and tackle industry challenges head-on.

Tackling transition finance: Next steps for investors

- » Investing in the energy transition: Opportunities and limitations
- » Are regulatory regimes designed to support transition finance?
- » Defining transition finance: achieving consensus, building guardrails
- » Is transition finance compatible with net zero commitments?

TNFD: Getting to grips with nature-related reporting

- » Lessons from early adopters of the TNFD framework
- » Will TNFD provide the data investors need to invest in and engage on nature?
- » How does the TNFD align with other initiatives (e.g. SBTN, EFRAG, GRI)?
- » Next steps: Update from the TNFD on its work

Making the case for 1.5C: Investor strategies

- » Few investors that have set 1.5C targets for their investments have rolled back on these goals despite it looking unlikely that this target will be met
- » But what is actually feasible for asset managers and asset owners if the real economy doesn't decarbonise fast enough?
- » This panel will see a number of investors make the case for how they view 1.5C, what they're doing to ensure Paris-alignment and the challenges they face
