

Deep Dive FAQs

1) What is a Deep Dive?

Infrastructure Investor Deep Dives are exclusive opportunities for Global Passport holders to get deeper, more actionable insight and build stronger connections.

A Deep Dive is a live, easy-to-access gathering every month that goes far deeper into the critical and emerging issues in our industry than you may be accustomed to. The program includes hour-long or half-day workshops on new valuation models, divining the good from the poor in digital infra, the returns you should prepare for from energy storage and PPAs, and establishing where healthcare infra sits - if at all - in a portfolio. There will be much more.

The Deep Dive series also speaks with major investors on their changing strategies, brings regulators to the stage for gloves-off interviews, and showcases original thinkers who'll help you look afresh at the industry and its future. You will be able to meet the speakers and connect with like-minded attendees.

2) Why now?

Deep Dives provide an efficient and interactive format which means you can maintain and extend your connections with peers around shared areas of interest wherever you are. Most sessions will be available afterwards in case you missed them. As travel restrictions are lifted, some Deep Dives will become breakfasts and lunches in major cities around the world.

3) What will attending a Deep Dive be like?

Until live events return, Deep Dives will take place on the same platform used for our five virtual infrastructure events in 2020. You'll be familiar with the environment. Global Passport holders with a desktop or laptop with a browser, camera and microphone can access all sessions.
